

Luxury serviced apartments added to firm's Sheffield portfolio

Tour invite: KSpace has joined forces with the operators of the recently-opened Sinclair Building, left, to offer companies and private clients apartments in the building, above.

KSPACE, the Sheffield-based firm that supplies luxury serviced apartments to corporate and private clients needing accommodation in Sheffield and Leeds, has added apartments in the recently-opened Sinclair Building on Glossop Road to its portfolio.

According to KSpace, the building, "with its jet-black exterior and sinuously curved walls" and "stylish individuality" which includes "solid oak flooring, kitchen fittings of high quality and stunning Philippe Starck bathrooms" is set to become one of Sheffield's modern landmarks.

Kate Cannon, director of KSpace, told us: "We are very excited by this venture.

"The Sinclair Building's superb standard of finish and fixtures, together with elegant suites of designer furniture, mean we are able to continue delivering our vision of the finest quality in serviced accommodation."

Cristian Sinclair, of The Sinclair Building said: "We chose KSpace for this joint venture because they have become one of Yorkshire's biggest operators in their field, with a reputation second to none.

"Their high level of service and customer care for their guests is unparalleled."

KSpace says serviced apartments are growing in popularity as a flexible alternative to hotels.

Bookings are for a minimum of two nights and every apartment has a maid service, free broadband access and TVs with more than 40 digital channels.

KSpace is inviting corporate customers to tour the accommodation in the Sinclair Building on Wednesday June 14.

At last, a new building we can be proud of BEAUTY, so they reckon, is in the eye of the beholder. Right? Well, right now this particular beholder is beholding the design of the stunning new Sinclair building, up on Glossop Road. With transport, shopping, restaurants and leisure all outside the city centre front door, this is a project with attitude that not only has impact and mega kerb appeal, but grabs you by the short 'n' curls and dares you to ignore it!

But its rather staid pedigree makes this contemporary design all the more remarkable. Sinclair's are a long established landmark company in Sheffield with a highly respected, international reputation as being retailers of high quality china and glassware. But I'll bet my bottom dollar that this is one exciting new development that'll not drive the buyers potty!

In recent Country Life magazine's

'New Projects' supplements there have been some jaw-dropping new developments featured from around the UK but, visually, this is one that really rocks.

I feel that the councillors who stitched up the taxpayers when they approved the manky, chunky junk in Sheffield city centre's last remaining prestigious plot, overlooking the beautiful Peace Gardens, could learn an important lesson here.

They should take the short walk along to Bagshaw (marketing agents for Sinclair), pick up a brochure and check out for themselves how a quality team of imaginative architects (Orange) have managed to create such a superb piece of reflective imagination. Reassuringly stylish, it'll be a terrific asset to the whole vibrant, city living, lifestyle scene.
